

It is important to remember that the radio waves are intended to be used by the people, and when the airwaves are dominated by capital interests, there are huge numbers of people who are culturally marginalized. This kind of marginalization is a serious social illness - one which can be helped, in part, by the expansion of LPFM stations.